Lesson Title for Jan. 10 – Christ Our Saviour
Memory Text: "And without controversy great is the mystery of godliness: God was manifested in the flesh, justified in the spirit seen of angels preached unto the Gentiles, believed on in the world, received up into glory." I Tim. 3:16.

The purpose of this study is to give a deeper understanding of Christ's supernatural birth, His exemplary life, vicarious death, resurrection and ascension, and how these affect the life of every individual. Realizing that there are insoluble mysteries concerning the nature of Christ, we should enter into our study with a positive emphasis on things which have been revealed, and a reverent reserve when we pass into unknown realms.

Lesson Outline for Daily Study Beginning Sunday, Jan. 4. 1 God – Man John 1:1-3, 14. 2. His Mission to Earth. John 10:9,10. 3. Victorious Life. I Peter 2:21-23. 4. Vicurious Death. Rom. 5 8-11. 5. From Grave to Glory. I Cor. 15:19-22. 6. His Priestly Work. Heb. 4:14-16.

Sin alienated man from his Creator, serving his connection with the source of life, but the reunion of divinity with humanity at Christ's birth made it possible for humanity to be united again with divinity. Thus the incarnation was essentual to salvation, for it bridged the gap between the sinner and God.

"The purpose of Christ's Mission to earth is described in several ways in the Bible, Paul says Christ gave himself as an offering and a sacrifice to God. Eph. 5:2. And again that He gave Himself for us, that He might redeem us from all iniquity and purify unto Himself a peculiar people. Titus 2:14. He came to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God (2 Cor. 4:6) and to bear witness unto the truth. Isiah one of the Old Testament prophets, predicted that a virgin would give birth to a son and call his name Immanuel, which means "God with us." Jesus had both a divine nature and a human nature, when He was on earth. Jesus was born sinless, but He was capable of being tempted and could have fallen. Wherefore in all things it behaved Him (Christ) to be made like unto His breathern, that He might be a merciful and faithful High Priest. Heb. 4:14-16.

Think it through – What steps can I take today to become more like Jesus?

Canaan Baptist

"By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." John 13:35.

Rev. N. M. Booker was the guest speaker at Canaan Sunday at 11:30 a.m. Everyone enjoyed him. Rev. R. Q. Lawing, Rev. Boyd Christian and Rev. J.D. Scruggs were there and other members from nearby churches.

Mrs. Mary C. Hudson is still on the sicklist. We hope she will soon be out again.

Mrs. Mary C. Hudson would like to thank her many friends for their visits and gifts, and so many acts of kindness shown her since her illness and during the holidays. I am asking God to bless and keep you through the years to come.

VSSO Names New President

Lynchburg – Joseph W. Valiant, II, President of the Bunker Hill Packing Corporation, Bedford, has been elected the fourth president of the Virginia State Symphony Orchestra. His election followed the step down of the Rev. Alexander C. Yates, Stephenson, Va., who had served four consecutive one - year terms as president of the rural-based, Virginia music program.

"VSSO's current goal of delivering maximum exposure of live, classical music to rural students and their communities at minimum cost has formidable leadership in Mr. Valiant," said the outgoing Yates, "His record as chairman of the Appomattox High School beginning Tuesday night, Jan. 20, at 7:30 p.m. The special course offered by educational television will be a series of seven lessons. Following the course, beginning January 20 one lesson will be presented each week.

The course was developed by the Agricultural Education Service of the State Department of Education in cooperation with the Agricultural Education Departments at Virginia Tech and will be offered on educational television on a Statewide basis. V.P.I. consulting specialists are participating in the filming of each of the lessons.

Mr. Park announced that the seven 30 minute color ETV lessons will be offered as a part of the two-hour instructional sessions. The course will be under the supervision of the agricultural instructors at the local high school. There will be no cost for anyone who enrolls in the course.

The course is designed to give the participants an appreciation of value of pesticides, to understand some of the precautions necessary in the safe use of pesticides and to develop the ability to use them effectively.

It will include lessons dealing with the need and value of pesticides, development of pesticides regulations governing pesticides, the identification and selection of chemical insecticides, selecting non-chemical methods of insect control, insects resistance to insectices and control practices.

First Items For Crisis Corner

Snowy weather has failed to halt a good project as Crisis Corner co-chairmen Mrs. J. Lloyd Hudson and Mrs. V. O. Mims carry the first donations into Liberty Baptist Church. The Cris Corner offers persons stricken by fire or other emergency a place to go for clothing, household goods and food. For householders, Crisis Corner offers a central location to donate clothing and other items no longer needed. Invidals desiring to contribute may contact their church chairman, Mrs. Hudson or Mrs. Mims.

Chemical Course Being Offered

H. B. Pack, Instructor of Agricultural Education at Appomattox High School, announced today that a special course in "Agricultural Chemicals-Pesticides" designed especially for young and adult farmers and others engaged in Agricultural Occupations who are involved in the selection, distribution or use of agricultural pesticides would be offered at the Appomattox High School beginning Tuesday night, Jan. 20, at 7:30 p.m. The special course offered by educational television will be a series of seven lessons. Following the course, beginning January 20 one lesson will be presented each week.

The course was developed by the Agricultural Education Service of the State Department of Education in cooperation with the Agricultural Education Departments at Virginia Tech and will be offered on educational television on a Statewide basis. VSSO soon hopes to be able to reach a minimum of one in every three rural schools with its program each year. Last season saw the program reach 80,000 students in 24 counties. Other support for its program is derived from corporate, foundation and private sources as well as through its "Music Bank" formed by schools, school auxiliaries and community organizations. Under the Music Bank plan, funds from all sources are stored and used only when the schools and communities use them in the form of live, musical services.

William C. Dudley, Pamplin, is a member of the board.

Other presidents of VSSO have been Nelson Y. Coxe of Covington, Va., and the organization's founder, conductor, soloist and current musical director, William Penny Hacker.

Impala.

It's got more re-sale value because it's got more to re-sell.

One of the nicest things about buying an Impala is selling it. That's because selling it traditionally brings back more of what people put into it in the first place. Money. Where does Impala keep getting its higher resale value? From features like those you see below. Features which explain why America's most popular car for the last nine years will undoubtedly make it ten in a row.
Impala. More to drive. More to re-sell.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Announce Engagement

MRS. NORMAN HUNTER JONES, JR.
the former Miss Mary Alice Buckwalter

Wed In Evening Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Mary Alice Buckwalter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin S. Buckwalter, Colonial Heights, to Norman Hunter Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hunter Jones, Sr., Spout Spring, took place Wednesday evening, December 31 at 7:30 O'clock in Our Redeemer Lutheran Church, Petersburg, Virginia.

Pastor Neil Robert Cline officiated at the double ring ceremony.

A program of nuptial music was provided by Robert DeWell, organist and the Youth Choir of the church who sang during Holy Communion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of light ivory duchess satin and peau d'ange lace. The empire bodice was designed with a jewel neckline and long satin sleeves appliqued with lace and embroidered with pearls. The hemline was edged with pearl embroidered lace. The cathedral length train was framed with lace and attached to the waist. The bride wore a full length veil of ivory illusion fashioned to a wreach of white roses.

She carried a prayer book covered with a cascade of white roses and ivy.

Miss Sara Ann Buckwalter, of Colonial Heights, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a Victorian style white blouse of sheith faced crepe and a full length evening skirt of cranberry velvet. In her hair she wore a Dior velvet bow with veil to match her full length skirt.

She carried a bouquet of red and white poinsettias.

Other attendants were Miss Gail Agnew of Colonial Heights, Miss Winnie Wetzel of Woodstock, Miss Arlene Bryce of Chesapeake.

Their gowns and headpieces were identical to that of the honor attendant. Each bridesmaid carried a single redpoinsettia.

Miss Julia Carol Jones, sister of the bridegroom, of Spout Spring, served as junior bridesmaid. She wore a full length gown of cranberry velvet trimmed with white Alencon lace and in her hair she wore a Dior bow to match her gown. She carried a single white poinsettia.

Flower girl was Miss Deanna Donnell. She wore a full length white lace dress with cranberry velvet sash around her empire waistline. She carried a white basket containing red rose petals.

Ringbearer was Keith Dickerson, a cousin of the bridegroom.

Best man was John William Marshall, Jr. of Blacksburg. Groomsmen were Wilmer Jones Bonnie of the bridegroom of Spout Spring; Sterling Hawkins of Ettrick, Rodger Spence of Portsmouth and Russell Carson of Kensington, Maryland.

The mother of the bride wore a pale blue and silver dress with silver shoes and white accessories. She wore a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the groom wore a mint green dress of crepe with matching shoes and white accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the social rooms of Our Redeemer Lutheran Church.

For the wedding trip to Williamsburg, Virginia, the bride chose a white knit dress with black patent leather accessories and a corsage of white roses lifted from the bridal banquet.

The couple will reside at 1716 Grove Avenue, Radford, Virginia. The bride is a senior at Radford College and the groom is a senior at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in Blacksburg.

The following guests arrived even though the area was blanketed with 14 inches of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lewis, John, Bill and Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poole and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lewis and Eddie, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vaughan, Mrs. Vernon Cheek, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brockwell, Mr. and Mrs. James Vaughan, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Vaughan, John, Jeff and Lynn, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Vaughan, Delores, Deborah, Tony, Michael, Lynn and Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vaughan and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Vaughan and Joe. The children enjoyed sleigh riding throughout the day.

Art Classes To Resume Jan. 20

Mrs. R. G. Janatka will be the instructor for art classes beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20 at the Rescue Squad building.

Yuletide Party

The family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Luther Vaughan of Victoria, Virginia, held their 60th annual Christmas party at Hospitality House, a recently decorated Colonial farm house; at Spout Spring, Virginia on December 28, 1969. A festive Spirit prevailed among the guests as the Christmas Dinner was served by the host and hostess Mr. and Mrs. J. Franklin Vaughan of Lynchburg, Va.

Traditional decorations were placed through out the house and gaily wrapped packages for everyone were under the tree.

UDC Dinner Tonite- 6:15

Mrs. Carrie Gilbert will be the speaker tonight (Thursday) at 6:15 at Maude's as the Appomattox Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy meet for a "Dutch treat dinner."

Arrangements for the dinner are being made by Mrs. Rachel F. Lawson. Mrs. A.J. Zastrow is president.

Judge Singleton Guest Speaker At AES P-TA

Judge Harold B. Singleton of the Fifth Regional Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court which is composed of Amherst, Campbell, Charlotte and Nelson Counties will be the guest speaker for the Appomattox Elementary PTA tonight at 8:00 in the school cafeteria.

Judge Singleton is a graduate of Lynchburg College and has been a practicing attorney for 34 years. After serving many years in the State Legislature and as County Judge for Amherst he accepted an appointment with the Fifth Regional Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court.

He is a native of Bedford County and spent most of his early life in this farming section; leaving the county to go to Lynchburg and "seek his fortune".

We are fortunate in being able to obtain a speaker who is a much in demand as Judge Singleton because of his sincere interest in the welfare of his fellow human beings. We urge you to attend this meeting of your PTA.

Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Peters of Mechanicsville, Virginia announce the birth of a boy, Timothy Lynn, born Jan. 3, 1970 in Virginia Baptist Hospital. The Peters also have a daughter, Alice Gale, age 3. Mrs. Peters is the former Linda Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Price of Pamplin, Virginia.

Liberty Pastor Home From Tour

Dr. Tommy Lea returned to his pupit at Liberty Baptist Church Sunday following a ten-day tour of the Holy Land.

Because of a mix-up at the bus terminal in New York, Dr. Lea made the entire trip with the contents of a brief-case, rather than the luggage he packed for the trip. He calls it a "one-suit pilgrimage."

He said that he was much impressed with the aggressiveness and nationalistic spirit of the Israeli people. Through extremely hard work, he said, "they have turned a barren land into a relatively fertile area, even to removing tons of rocks from formerly untillable land.

He saw the gunboats at Haifa which the Israelis had spirited away from France. He spoke Tuesday about a Christian Arab guide and a Jewish guide who told Dr. Lea and his companions that the Jewish people are searching spiritually for a "solid religion."

He and his traveling companions were not taken near sites of the frequent Arab –Israeli border clashes. He says that traveling in Jerusalem and the other cities of Palestine was probably not any more dangerous than similar travel in cities in the U.S.
